

5 INCOME STREAMS.

Five ways to earn online that need no capital, no audience, and nobody's permission. Real numbers, real platforms, and the first move to make today.

5 STREAMS	$0 TO START	1H PER DAY	90 DAY PLAN
---------------------	------------------------	----------------------	-----------------------

ONE STREAM. NINETY DAYS. NO SWITCHING.

That is the entire method. Everything in this guide exists to help you choose the one, and nothing in it will help you if you choose four.

ruthlessfocus.system

REALITY CHECK.

This is the part most free guides skip because it costs them sales.

You are about to read five business models. All five work. People are making money with every one of them right now, today, while you read this sentence.

That is not the problem. The problem is that you already knew that. You have probably read a version of this guide before. Maybe several. And here you are, still reading guides.

"The gap between you and the person earning from this is not information. It never was."

So here is the deal for the next twenty pages. Pick one stream. Not the one that sounds most exciting — the one you could start tonight with what you already own. Ignore the other four completely. You can come back for them in ninety days.

The only rule that matters

One stream. Ninety days. No switching. Most people fail at this not because they picked wrong, but because they picked four times.

WHAT YOU NEED TO START

- A phone. Not a computer, not a camera, not a ring light.
- One hour a day you can defend from everything else.
- A free account on one platform. Which one depends on the stream.
- The willingness to publish something bad in public this week.

CHOOSE BEFORE YOU READ ON

WHICH ONE IS YOURS.

Read this table, pick a row, then read that chapter first.

The right stream is not the best one. It is the one that matches what you actually have right now — time, money, patience, and whether you can stand being on camera. Be honest in this table and the next ninety days get much simpler.

IF THIS IS YOU	START WITH	FIRST $ IN
I need money this month	Stream 04 - Services	1 - 3 weeks
I have a skill people ask me about	Stream 01 - Products	3 - 6 weeks
I hate selling and want it quiet	Stream 03 - Templates	4 - 8 weeks
I already post content regularly	Stream 02 - Affiliate	2 - 6 weeks
I have zero of the above	Stream 05 - Content	3 - 6 months

If you cannot decide

Take Stream 04. Services pay fastest, teach you what people actually pay for, and fund everything else. Nobody regrets starting with cash flow.

WHAT EACH ONE COSTS YOU

STREAM	UPFRONT TIME	ONGOING TIME	CEILING
01 Products	High	Very low	High
02 Affiliate	Low	Medium	Medium
03 Templates	Medium	Very low	Medium
04 Services	Low	Very high	Low
05 Content	Very high	High	Very high

Notice that services have the lowest ceiling and the highest ongoing cost. That is not a reason to skip them. It is a reason to treat them as the engine that funds streams 01 and 03, and to raise your rate every third client until it hurts to say the number out loud.

DIGITAL PRODUCTS.

Make it once. Sell it while you sleep. The highest margin business that exists.

A digital product is a file someone pays for. A PDF, a template, a spreadsheet, a set of presets. You build it once. Every sale after that costs you nothing — no inventory, no shipping, no support call at 2am. Just a file and a payment link.

THE MATH THAT MAKES THIS WORTH DOING

One hundred followers. Three percent click the link in your bio. One of them buys. At $27, that is one sale. Do that once a day and it is roughly $800 a month. Get to a thousand followers and the number multiplies. The product does not change. The audience grows. The income compounds.

FORMAT	PRICE RANGE	TIME TO BUILD
PDF guide / ebook	$7 - $47	4 - 10 hours
Notion or Excel template	$7 - $97	2 - 4 hours
Canva social media kit	$12 - $37	3 - 6 hours
Mini-course, 5-10 videos	$27 - $197	10 - 20 hours
Presets / brushes / actions	$5 - $29	2 - 5 hours

Specificity is the whole game

"How to make money online" sells nothing — it competes with every free video ever posted.

"How to make your first $500 on Gumroad in 30 days" sells at $27, because it names a number, a platform and a deadline.

YOUR FIRST MOVE

01 Pick one topic you know better than the people around you

Not better than everyone. Better than your last five conversations.

02 Write ten pages solving one specific problem in that topic

One problem. If you list three, you have a brochure, not a product.

03 Open a free Gumroad or Stan Store account

Ten minutes. No approval, no fees until you sell.

04 Upload it, price it at $27, put the link in your bio

Not $9. Cheap products attract buyers who complain the most.

05 Post three pieces of content a day about that problem

Every post points at the same problem the product solves.

RECOMMENDED PLATFORM

Stan Store — stan.store

The cleanest storefront for creators. Link-in-bio and store in one page, with email capture, digital delivery and payments handled for you. Free to start. Gumroad is the alternative if you want a marketplace attached.

The mistake that kills stream 01

Building the product before testing whether anyone wants it. Post about the problem for two weeks first. If nobody replies, nobody buys. You just saved yourself ten hours.

AFFILIATE MARKETING.

Sell somebody else's product. Keep a cut. Build nothing.

You recommend a tool. Someone buys through your link. You get paid a percentage, often every month for as long as they stay. No product to build, no customers to support. The trade-off is that you own nothing — the company can change the terms tomorrow.

PROGRAMS THAT ACTUALLY PAY

PROGRAM	COMMISSION	WHY IT CONVERTS
Systeme.io	40% recurring	Free plan, so the barrier is zero
Beehiiv	50% for 12mo	Every creator needs a newsletter
Notion	Up to $1000/yr	Huge existing search demand
CapCut / editing tools	Varies	Your audience already uses it
Hosting and domains	$50-150 flat	One-time but high ticket

"Recommend what you actually use. The moment you promote something you have never opened, your audience can smell it — and they only need to catch you once."

THE RULE THAT KEEPS YOU FROM SOUNDING LIKE SPAM

Teach first, link second. Make a post that solves a real problem end to end. Mention the tool only where it genuinely removes a step. If you deleted the link, the post should still be worth reading. If it would not be, you have written an advertisement and people will treat it like one.

- Disclose the link. It is required in the US and it costs you nothing.
- Never promote a product with income or luck claims. It burns trust and gets accounts restricted.

- One tool per post. Lists of ten links convert worse than one recommendation.
 - Prefer recurring commission over one-time payouts. Same work, income that stacks.

The mistake that kills stream 02

Chasing the highest commission instead of the highest fit. A 50% payout on something your audience will never buy pays exactly zero. Promote the boring tool they already need.

TEMPLATES AND ASSETS.

Four hours of work that sells for years.

People pay to not start from zero. A Notion dashboard, an Excel tracker, a set of email scripts, a Canva kit — these take an afternoon to build and they never go out of date the way a course does. This is the least glamorous stream on this list and one of the most reliable.

WHAT SELLS

- Notion systems: content calendars, client CRMs, habit trackers, budget dashboards
- Excel and Sheets: invoice generators, freelance rate calculators, inventory trackers
- Canva kits: carousel templates, story sets, thumbnail packs by niche
- Copy libraries: cold email scripts, DM openers, sales page frameworks

The listing beats the product

A mediocre template with three clean screenshots and a clear title outsells a brilliant one with no preview. Buyers cannot test it. They buy the presentation. Spend as long on the listing images as you did building the thing.

WHERE TO LIST

PLATFORM	BEST FOR	FEE
Gumroad	Anything digital, fastest setup	10% flat
Etsy	Templates, printables, planners	6.5% + listing
Creative Market	Design assets, fonts, kits	40-50% split
Notion marketplace	Notion systems specifically	Free listing

The mistake that kills stream 03

Building one template and waiting. This stream works on volume - ten listings, not one. Each is a lottery ticket that never expires, and the tenth one usually outsells the first nine.

SERVICES YOU CAN START MONDAY.

The fastest money on this list. Also the least passive.

Everything else here takes weeks to produce a first dollar. A service can pay you this week. You trade hours for money, which is the thing everyone tells you to escape — but it funds the streams that do not trade hours. Start here if you need cash before you need freedom.

SKILLS SOMEBODY IS PAYING FOR RIGHT NOW

SERVICE	TYPICAL RATE	LEARNING CURVE
Short-form video editing	$150-500/mo per client	2-3 weeks
Social media management	$300-1500/mo	2-4 weeks
Cold email / lead research	$300-800/mo	1 week
Landing page setup	$200-800 per page	3-4 weeks
Bookkeeping and admin	$400-1200/mo	Weeks, if you have it

HOW TO GET THE FIRST CLIENT

01 Pick a niche you can name in three words

"Dentists in Ohio" beats "small businesses" every time.

02 Find twenty of them with a visible problem

Bad thumbnails, dead Instagram, no landing page — something you can see.

03 Fix one thing for free, unasked, and send it

Not a pitch. The finished work. This converts far above any cold message.

04 Charge monthly, not hourly, from client one

Hourly caps you. Retainers compound and make your income predictable.

"Doing the work before you are hired feels like giving it away. It is the cheapest advertising you will ever buy."

The mistake that kills stream 04

Underpricing to win the first client, then resenting them for six months. Quote the number that makes you slightly uncomfortable. The client who says no at that price was going to be the difficult one anyway.

CONTENT AS AN ASSET.

The slowest to start. The only one that makes the other four easier.

An audience is not a business. It is leverage on a business. Ten thousand followers with nothing to sell earns nothing. Five hundred followers with a $27 product and a weekly email earns rent. Build the audience second, not first — but build it, because it makes every other stream on this list cheaper to run.

THE POSTING SYSTEM

- One topic. Your account should be describable in one sentence by a stranger.
- Three posts a day for ninety days. Volume beats polish at the start, every time.
- Every post answers one question your product or service solves.
- Move people off the platform. Followers are rented; an email list is owned.
- Study your top three posts each week and make more of those. Ignore the rest.

The number that actually matters

Not followers. Not likes. The number of people on your email list. An algorithm change can erase your reach overnight. It cannot touch a list of addresses you exported last week.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE LIST

One email a week. Something useful, then one line pointing at whatever you sell. That is it. People overcomplicate this into funnels and automations before they have fifty subscribers. Write the weekly email. Everything else is optimisation of a thing that does not exist yet.

The mistake that kills stream 05

Posting to be liked instead of posting to be useful. Engagement without an offer is a hobby with extra steps.

THE MAP.

One page. Print it if you have to.

Whichever stream you picked, the shape of the next three months is the same. The specifics change; the sequence does not.

DA Set up and publish something bad

YS Account created, first product or first offer live, first three posts out. It will be worse than you want. Publish it anyway - nothing after this works until something exists.
1-7

DA Volume, no editing of strategy

YS Three posts a day. Same topic. Do not change the offer, the price or the niche. You are gathering data, and thirty days is the minimum sample.
8-30

DA Cut and double

YS Look at your top three posts and your bottom ten. Make more of the top three. Delete nothing, but stop making the bottom ten. Raise your price or your rate once.
31-60

DA Add the second thing

YS Only now. A second product, a second client, an email list, an upsell. Adding it earlier is how people end up with five half-built businesses and no income.
61-90

"Ninety days of one thing beats three years of switching. You have already proven the second half of that sentence."
